THE ARREST OF BILLY WILLIAMS.—As stated in yesterday's GAZETTE, Billy Williams, who is under indictment for the murder of Officer Arnold in this city last spring, was arrested in Baltimore yesterday, and was last night brought to this city.

Williams was arrested by Policeman Pick at 1:30 o'clock Friday morning in the Pacific Concert Hall, East Baltimore street. The barkeeper at the Concert Hall entered his bedroom, and before retiring lighted a match and looked under the bed. He saw a man under the bed, and lost no time in getting from the room. The first person he met was Mrs. Jeannette Bucholtz, wife of the proprietor of the place. He told her that there was a man under his bed. She rushed into her kitchen, which is on the same floor, and picked up a big iron cake turner. She hurried back to the bedroom and met the intruder at the door. Without a word she struck the man in the face, inflicting a deep gash from which the blood flowed freely. The barkeeper had in the meanwhile found Mr. Bucholtz and told him about the man under the bed. The proprietor met the visitor in the act of trying to get out of the door, and knocked him down with a powerful blow and drew a pistol upon him, telling him that if he moved hand or foot he would kill him. The police were called in, and Williams was taken to the central station in a patrol wagon.

To Lieutenant Busiek he gave the name of Frank Clarke, the lieutenant recognized him as Williams. The prisoner then confessed that his name was Williams. When searched a 42 calibre loaded revolver was found in his pocket, and around his waist was a large bowie-knife, tightly strapped. He was taken before Justice Hobbs, charged with feloniously entering the house of Bucholtz with intent to rob. To the Squire Williams said: "I ain't got nothing to say." He was committed for court. By the advice of State's Attorney Kerr he was sent to Alexandria, as the case here was the more serious one. Williams said he would go without putting the officers to the trouble of obtaining papers. About six o'clock last night Capt. Webster arrived, accompanied by Officer Grady, and took charge of Williams. Detective Kelly came to this city with the officers and prisoner. Williams, when arrested, had his shoes, hat and coat off.

Williams' experience has been a varied one. He has been recognized as a burglar and a thief. He was born in South Washington, and is thirty-one years of age. He is well known in Baltimore, and has figured conspicuously in the police annals. In 1871 he was taken from Washington and placed in the House of Refuge. He was then known as "Charlie" Williams. After serving his time he ran between Washington and Baltimore and was several times arrested. On November 26, 1878, he was arrested as a fugitive from justice. He was known then as Billy Williams alias Charles Johnson. He was sent to Washington and sentenced to four years in the Albany penitentiary for burglary. Since then Williams has served a term in the penitentiary in Philadelphia. He is said to have done small jobs in Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Washington and Baltimore. He is a man about five feet five inches in height, weighs 135 pounds, has black hair and gray eyes. He is broad across the nose between his eyes. Since the murder of Officer Arnold he is supposed to have secreted himself in Baltimore until he heard of Curran's acquittal. He is said to have run a saloon on Chestnut street and also on Liberty street years ago.

Marshal Frey stated last night that in case Williams is not convicted in Alexandria, he will be taken back to Baltimore to answer the charge of entering Bucholtz's place. There is a belief in police circles that parties knew of Williams' whereabouts and that Williams and a friend intended robbing Bucholtz's place.

A large crowd assembled at the depot last night to await the arrival of the 10:40 train from Washington, on which it was expected the officers and Williams would reach this city, but when the train rolled in it was soon discovered that they were not on board, so the crowd dispersed. When the midnight train reached here another crowd assembled at the depot, though not so large as the first that had gathered there, and on this came Capt. Webster and Officer Grady, of this city; detective John Kelly, of Baltimore; and the prisoner, Billy Williams. Every one at the depot gathered around the officers to catch a glimpse of Williams and there was considerable excitement for a few moments, but the officers soon started for the station house with their prisoner whether they were followed by the crowd. On the way down the street Williams was approached from behind by Robt. Arnold, a son of the late officer Arnold, who struck him on the head with a bat, and Great excitement followed this attack but the officers protected Williams from further assault, and Arnold was arrested and taken to the station house where he was locked up. No further effort was made to molest Williams and he was soon taken to the station house and secured.

This morning Williams was seen in his cell at the station house where he presented a very battered appearance, the effects of his bad treatment in Baltimore and this city. He talked freely and seemed disposed to conceal nothing. He said he was innocent of any connection with the killing of Arnold and had not been in this city before for a year. He said he heard of the affair the day afterwards while in Baltimore, and the following day heard he was accused of the murder. He determined then to keep out of the way because he was out on bail for attempting to burglarize a house in Washington, and having forfeited his bail he was afraid to be arrested he would be taken to Washington and turned over to the authorities there who were prejudiced against him. He then went west and got as far as Jefferson City, Mo. He returned to Baltimore a week ago, stopping at various places going and coming. He said he was in Baltimore with a woman the night Arnold was killed and could prove this at his trial. Williams was 31 years old and said he was born and raised in Washington, where he lived with his aunt, his parents being dead. He said he saw detective McDewitt in Baltimore a few days ago. When asked why he gave his name as Clarke he said he did not want to go to Washington, but that as soon as he saw the officers were going to take him he admitted he was Williams, and agreed to go wherever they wanted him.

This morning when arraigned before the Mayor, Commonwealth's Attorney Marbury appeared for the State, but Williams had no counsel. He waived an examination and was sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury. Williams was taken into custody by Capt. Webster and conducted quietly to jail, Capt. Webster warning the crowd not to follow, which admonition was obeyed.

Robt. Arnold when brought before the Mayor this morning charged with an assault on Williams last night, asked to have his case continued till Monday, which was done and he was released on bail. This morning Williams said he had nothing against young Arnold, as he knew he was excited when he struck him, thinking about his dead father.

Although Williams declares that he has not been in this city before for a year, the police say they can produce witnesses who will testify that they saw him near the fair grounds the night Arnold was killed.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—A democratic mass meeting was held in the county last night, at Carver school house. The meeting was called to order by Robert Walker, a member of the county committee, and was organized by the election of S. D. Beach, chairman, and E. S. Brockett as secretary. Speeches were made by R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax county, the democratic nominee for the State Senate; Judge Stuart, the nominee for the House of Delegates, and S. G. Brent, esq., of this city. Their speeches created considerable enthusiasm and were received with much applause.

On motion of James E. Clements the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting are extended to Messrs. Moore, Brent, and Stuart, for their able and instructive speeches on the political issues of the times; and that we, in mass meeting assembled, pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to elect R. W. Moore to the Senate, and Judge Charles E. Stuart to the House of Delegates of Virginia at the approaching election."

POLICE REPORT.—Last night was clear and cool with two prisoners and five lodgers at the station house.

The Mayor this morning disposed of the following cases:

Billy Williams, charged with the murder of Officer Arnold was sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Robt. Arnold, arrested by Capt. Webster for an assault last night on Billy Williams, had his case continued.

Malinda Turner, colored, arrested by Officer Price for disorderly conduct, was fined $1.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—A large audience again attended the Opera House last night to witness the presentation of the beautiful pastoral drama, "Maud Muller," by the Kittle Rhoades Company. The piece was rendered in an excellent manner by the leading members of the troupe, while the acting of the rest of the company was highly creditable. Miss Rhoades closes her engagement to night, when the comedy, "The Bad Boy" will be presented.

A COMPROMISE EFFECTED.—The District and the Alexandria Bridge Company have compromised their differences, the company paying to the District $5,000. The case has been in court for some time past in different shapes, and rather than wait the law's long delay the bridge company offered to pay the above amount and take a quit claim.

PASTORAL RELATIONS DISSOLVED.—The pastoral relations between Rev. Jas. I. Vance and the Wytheville Presbyterian Church has been dissolved by the Presbytery of Abingdon, and the call to the Second Presbyterian Church of this city placed in his hands by the Presbytery and accepted by him.

DON'T FORGET.—Tuesday next will be the 8th of November upon which day an election is to be held, the result of which may determine for an indefinite period, the destinies of this Commonwealth. Remember this, and vote for the democratic candidates, Messrs. Moore and Stuart.

PROPERTY SALE.—Messrs. Green & Wise, for Mr. G. A. Mushbach, commissioner, in the cause of Young vs. Lunt, to day sold the lot of ground and brick dwelling thereon, situated on the south side of King street between Columbus and Alfred, to Capt. Geo. Young for $1,650.

PERSONAL.—Rev. J. J. Bullock is in Lexington, Ky., expecting to remain there until after the unveiling of the statue of Gen. John C. Breckinridge, that takes place on the 16th of this month.

THE MUSICAL REHEARSAL.—A large number of the friends of the Alexandria Musical Association assembled by invitation at Saxe's Hall last night, the occasion being the association's first public rehearsal of the season. The varied programme was given in a manner that elicited the hearty applause of the audience, the different numbers being read in a style that would reflect credit upon professionals. These rehearsals are a source of pleasure to those who are fortunate enough to secure invitations and their reputation has done much to foster a taste for music in this community.

A Bonanza Mine of health is to be found in Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," to the merits of which, as a remedy for female weakness and kindred affections, thousands testify.

The Breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society, and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designated Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only real cure for hay fever, rose cold and catarrh.
